The handsomest "special edition" that has yet come to The True Democrat's exchange table is the "Souvenir Supplement" to the Lakeland News, with richly illuminated cover on fine, heavy enameled paper, and contents overflowing with interesting matter about Lakeland, profusely and very artistically illustrated. Send for it if you want to know the truth about Lakeland.

A public examination will be held at the Opera House May 11, 12 and 13, 1905, for all applicants for free scholarships in the Peabody College for Teachers, at Nashville, Tenn. This is an excellent opportunity for the young men and women of Florida who desire to attend this college to further perfect themselves for their future work. All applicants should write to Mr. E. P. Watson, Tallahassee, Fla., for particulars.

Savannah and the country immediately surrounding it has been visited by an army of caterpillars. The Savannah News asserts that there are millions of the little pests destroying foliage of every description, summer oaks being stripped of every leaf. Homes had to be vacated in some instances, and at one place a Central of Georgia train was stalled and was unable to proceed.

If each citizen would make a careful examination of his premises to see that there are no stagnant pools of water in which mosquitoes can breed, we would have fewer of those pests to fight this summer. A water barrel, any old bucket or pan or tin-cans in fact anything that will catch water will breed millions. Could not the health officer in making his rounds inspecting premises, be empowered to see that all such breeding places be destroyed?

"When the people up at Tallahassee can't get anything else to wrangle about," said a traveling man who recently passed through the State Capital, "they swap fish stories and dispute each other's veracity. Steve Melon has said so much about the Lake Jackson bream that he has been picking the bones out of, and 'Flav' Christie has bragged so unmercifully about those remarkable 'blue bream' in some lake with a name that no fellow can pronounce, that the other day Representative Duval of Wakulla County had sent up from town some sure enough bream which were served for supper at his table in the Leon. 'I don't like fish myself,' concluded the drummer; 'but, if I did, I rather think that Mr. Duval's bream would have been about the kind that I would have liked best.'—Times-Union.

U. D. of C. Reception.

A number of delegates to the annual meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy, held at Pensacola this week, stopped over Monday to take part in ceremonies celebrating the return of the battleflags. The local chapter of the Daughters tendered them a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Breward, on Monroe street.

The elegant rooms were hung with flags and filled with beautifully-gowned women and admiring men. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, ices and cake were served to the guests by a number of Tallahassee's fair young daughters. Miss Whitfield's orchestra rendered some beautiful selections, and all together the occasion was most enjoyable. Among the visiting ladies present were Mrs. Stockbridge, Mrs. S. B. Thompson and Mrs. Johnson, of Lake City; Mrs. Stringfellow, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Tench, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. McCree, of Gainesville; Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. D. ysdale, Mrs. McNulty, Mrs. Christie, Miss McFadden, Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Fleming and Miss Sallie Holmes, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Dial and Mrs. Morrow, of Madison; Miss Raney, of Apalachicola and Mrs. Brumby, of Ocala.

Many members of the Legislature and a large number of Tallahasseeans were also present.

The visiting ladies left on Tuesday afternoon's train for Pensacola to attend their annual meeting.

Carnival of Nations.

The Carnival of Nations which was given in the Leon Academy grounds last Friday was an unique and delightful entertainment. In the angle behind the building was erected a large stage brilliantly lighted with electric light bulbs. In the center of the stage poised in mid-air was the goddess, Miss Carrie Bigham, who was present to pass judgment on the claims of the various nations as to superior qualities and to award a golden crown to the victor. The different nations were costumed in their respective national colors, making a very attractive and pretty scene. Each spokesman of the nations did their allotted parts exceptionally well and all were loudly applauded by the audience. Quite a sum was realized by the entertainment, which will be used to purchase a new piano, of which the academy stands much in need. Mr. Wideman and his corps of teachers deserve much praise for the manner in which they have drilled their school children (many of whom were mere tots) and both the school and teachers are to be congratulated on their remarkably successful and delightful entertainment.
